Life's Lessons

*I learn, as the years roll onward And leave the past behind,
That much I had counted sorrow But proves that God is kind:
That many a flower I had longed for Had hidden a thorn of pain,
And many a rugged bypath Led to fields of ripened grain.
The clouds that cover the sunshine They can not banish the sun;
And the earth shines out the brighter When the weary rain is done.
We must stand in the deepest shadow To see the clearest light;
And often through wrong's own darkness Comes the very strength of light.
The sweetest rest is at even, After a wearisome day,
When the heavy burden of labor Has borne from our hearts away;
And those who have never known sorrow Can not know the infinite peace
That falls on the troubled spirit When it sees at least release.
We must live through the dreary winter If we would value the spring;
And the woods must be cold and silent Before the robins sing.
The flowers must be buried in darkness Before they can bud and bloom,
And the sweetest, warmest sunshine Comes after the storm and gloom.*

-Author Unknown

"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. ² He makes me lie down in green pastures; He leads me beside quiet waters. ³ He restores my soul; He guides me in the paths of righteousness For His name's sake. ⁴ Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil, for You are with me; Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me. ⁵ You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies; You have anointed my head with oil; My cup overflows. ⁶ Surely goodness and lovingkindness will follow me all the days of my life, And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever." - Psalm 23
